MUSICAL MENTION.

The friends of Miss Eva Mills have planned a benefit for her, to relieve her immediate necessities, and Mrs. Gilson, proprietor of the Everett House, is the principal in the movement. Miss Mills, who is remembered by older Washingtonians as the foremost local soprano of her time, has been seriously ill for many months and the little she had saved has been swept away by unfortunate investments, so that now she is really in need. It is believed that those who remember how willing she was in the day of her prosperity to sing for charity will readily respond to the appeal now made in her behalf. It is not known exactly where the benefit will take place, but it will be within ten days, and it is ex-pected there will be a generous host of vol-unteers.

Mr Angelo C Fronani went to Richmond Mr. Angelo C. Fronani went to Richmond last Saturday to play at a musicale at the residence of Mrs. George W. Stevens, wife of the president of the C. and O. railroad, who gave a musicale which was attended by the best people of that city. Mr. Fronani played Schumann's "Fantasie and Rubinstein's "Staccato Etude," and as encores he gave Brahms' "Berceuse" and Sauer's "Couplet Sans Parole." Maurice Grau of the Maurice Grau Opera Company, and Henry W. Savage of the Castle Square Opera Company, have made arrangements to give grand opera In English at the Metropolitan Opera House. The agreement is for a term of years, and a company is now in process of incorporation, to be known as the Metropolitan English Opera Company, of which Messrs. Grau and Savage will be the managing directors, with Frank W. Sanger as a member of the board of directors.

The season will begin about October 1, and will continue until December 15. The company will then make a tour of the principal cities, returning to the Metropolitan at Easter week for a spring season, to continue throughout April and May. Six evening performances will be given, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, two or more operas constituting the week's repertoire.
